

About the Cover

Ilex vomitoria (yaupon holly) is the only North American native plant that contains caffeine. In this issue, Adelberg and collaborators investigate how the shade and fertilizer affects biomass and caffeine content in a clonal plantation of yaupon holly. Picture: clonal field of the native yaupon holly (Ilex vomitoria), under shade and fertility treatments.